Hi,

We wanted to inform you that the domain energytransportx.com is already hosting one of your existing sites. Because of this, we're unable to host the new frontend directly on the main domain.

However, we can host the frontend in one of the following ways:

On a subdomain of your main domain — for example, app.energytransportx.com or

On a subdomain of your main domain (in example, <https://energytransportx.com>) portal.energytransportx.com.

On the domain energytransportx.info, which we've already set up and can use for the frontend deployment.

Please let us know which option you'd prefer so we can proceed with the setup.

Best regards,

 miguel_trevino sent you a message Oct 14, 2025, 6:41 PM

Hey team, we'd like to proceed with portal.energytransportx.com as our subdomain. We can set it up as a CNAME or A record. Let me know which would be preferred. I am currently working on setting it up.

 miguel_trevino sent you a message Oct 14, 2025, 6:46 PM

I've just set it up as portal.energytransportx.com, let me know if you need anything else from us. It is a subdomain of our energytransportx.com, will be in the hosting account

 You sent a message Oct 14, 2025, 6:54 PM

Sure! If anything comes up, I'll be sure to reach out to you.

 miguel_trevino sent you a message Oct 14, 2025, 7:13 PM

Sounds good. Just to make sure on one thing. By the 16th-17th publishing timeline we need to have the "Live Schematic" button back in the customer view, this is a priority for us. We need it there, even if it doesn't do anything currently. It is crucial for our business presentation to show it. We will work on connecting it to an API later.

Thank you

 You sent a message Oct 14, 2025, 7:49 PM

Thank you for the clarification. We completely understand the importance of having the "Live Schematic" button visible for your upcoming presentation.

We'll make sure it's restored in the customer view by the 16th-17th as part of the publishing timeline. For now, it will appear as a non-functional placeholder until the API connection is implemented later.

Hey team, we're ready to meet, send over the zoom invite when possible

 miguel_trevino sent you a message Oct 16, 2025, 9:14 AM

Are we still meeting today? Let us know the status, if not ready we can meet tomorrow at 9 am your time.

 miguel_trevino sent you a message Oct 16, 2025, 9:32 AM

Team. Looks like we're not ready for a meeting today. Not an issue, we can meet tomorrow at 9 am Bangladesh time, with the product finalized I assume.

In the future I ask that if a meeting needs to be pushed back, just let us know and we'll gladly accommodate. We'd appreciate that over the waiting with no response.

We'll meet tomorrow at 9 am your time.

Regards

 You sent a message Oct 16, 2025, 10:08 AM

Hello Miguel,

I apologize for any inconvenience caused. I was caught up in two meetings today, and I didn't want you to feel ignored in any way. It wasn't my intention at all.

Let's meet tomorrow at 9 AM Bangladesh time, assuming the product will be finalized by then.

In the future, this won't happen again. If a meeting needs to be rescheduled, I would let you know in advance.

Thank you.

 You requested to extend the delivery date Oct 16, 2025, 1:12 PM

 Me

Hi miguel_trevino,

I hope you're doing well and staying safe.

As the delivery time is approaching, I've extended the deadline to ensure we can avoid a late delivery.

As you know, we've already started working on the chat system, which requires additional time to complete properly. And we will discuss further in the meeting.

Thank you for your understanding and continued support.

Hey Tareq, unfortunately I need this website published, regardless of status by today. We have an important meeting where this website will be displayed. I am aware there are further fixes to make, and that's okay, but my need right now is to have a published website.

This next meeting I am expecting to publish the website and go over how me and Alex can access it. Everything else is not priority at this moment.

Thank you

 You sent a message Oct 16, 2025, 9:07 PM

I understand everything. Let's meet up tomorrow. We will sort out every issue on the meeting hopefully.

See you soon.
